Friday, February 18, 2022 Seminar Topic:

MI Technical Solutions and the MITS-FISH-007 by Mr. Taylor Darling, Innovation Division Electrical Engineer at MI Technical Solutions

Abstract:

Bio:

Taylor Darling is from Toledo, Ohio. He joined the US Navy in 2013, and his military career finished in Norfolk, Virginia, where he currently lives. Taylor is an Old Dominion University Alumni. He completed his BSEE in Fall 2020 and MSEE in Fall 2021. Taylor is presently employed at MI Technical Solutions, where he focuses on RF link design and deployment to support the DoD. Taylor manages the MITS-FISH-007 project, a manned electric submersible converting to a UUV. The MITS-FISH-007 was also his Master's project while attending ODU.
